THE BEACON

1950

The Beacon
1958

Foreword

The Beacon staff, through the following pages has attempted to reflect your thoughts back through five momentous years. We felt that the memories of these years could be most effectively captured by setting the entire book around a theme. The theme we've chosen is "The Clouds." We, the class of 1957-58, would like to think of ourselves as the clouds, elements very close to the sun-symbolic of the highest qualities of life. Through these pages:

The friends we have gained
The challenges we have met
The rewards we have received
The vision we have perceived
The hands that have guided us

...we will have these moments to remember, for no perfect thing is too small for eternal recollection.

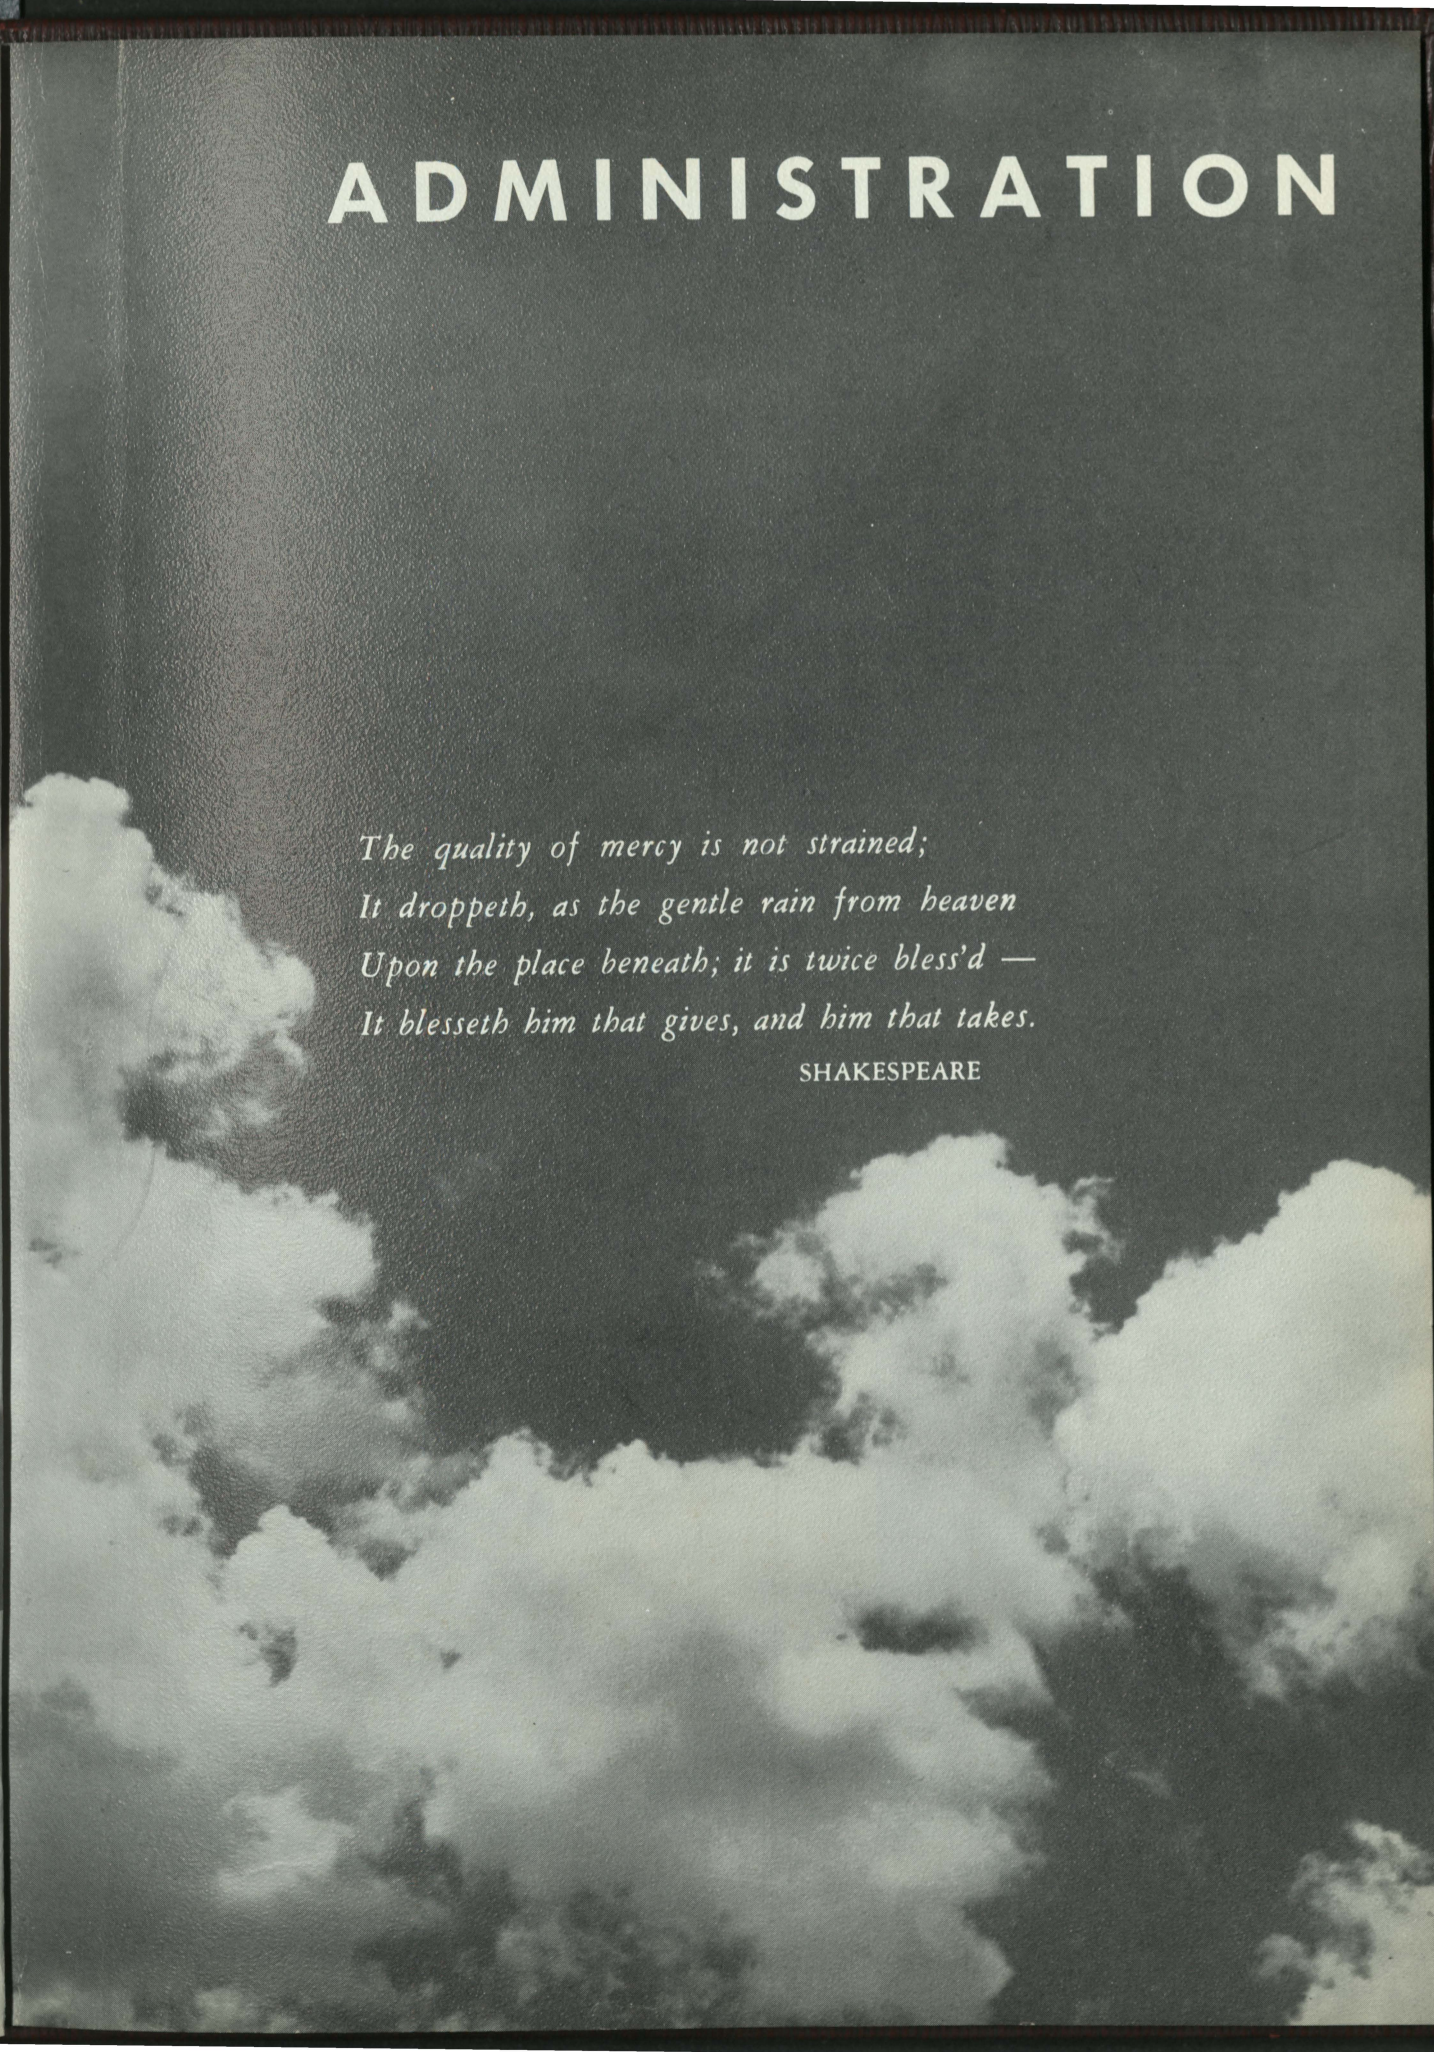
MR. THOMAS C. WILSON

"He that has patience may compass anything." - Shakespeare

For twelve years Mr. Thomas C. Wilson has so patiently molded the minds and voices of our students that the products have brought recognition and honor to our school and community.

The class of '58 sincerely feels that our dedicatee most aptly proves Shakespeare's famous quotation.

ADMINISTRATION



The quality of mercy is not strained;
It droppeth, as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath; it is twice bless'd —
It blesseth him that gives, and him that takes.

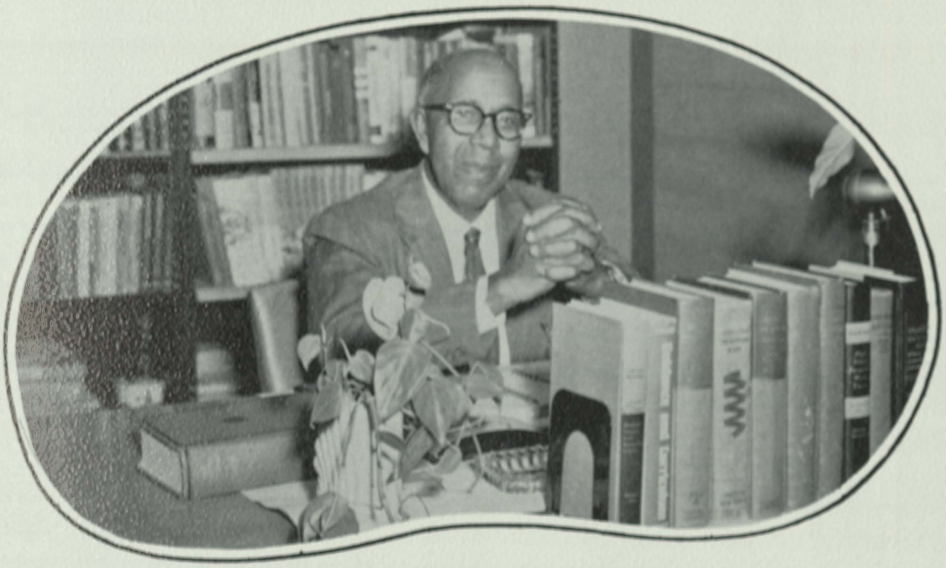
Principal's Message



It is a privilege for me to commend each of you who has contributed in any way to making this a wonderful record of school activities and achievements. It shows you have great pride and appreciation for your school.

To you, Seniors, I would say, "Congratulations and best wishes for long life, and may you have great success with every added year. May you know that 'the best is yet to be, the last of life, for which the first was made.' Remember that lives of great men and women can, if followed, be stepping stones to your greatness."

May God continue to bless each of you.

Class Poem

THE SHIP OF '58

Once again a sad scene we repeat
As we launch on the rivers of life,
Our cherished memories will help us to meet
With courage, the perilous seas of strife.

Our work here is o'er, our good-byes are said
No more in this port will we roam,
As we face the stormy currents ahead
A proverb becomes a reality: "There's No Place Like Home."

But sail on we must, there is no time for tears
We must conquer the dangers before us
To fulfill our goals, we must overcome our fears
And seek new ports which lie before us.

We entered as Freshmen, timid, unwise
We are leaving as graduates bold
Constantly fascinated as we realize
The wonders that knowledge can unfold.

We say "Thanks," to our parents and teachers we love,
Deep in our hearts you'll always remain
Many impediments you helped us rise above,
That new heights we might gain.

Because of your help we launch today
Fame and fortune we now seek
You have helped us prepare, you have shown us the way
So, that in new ports we might anchor deep.

To our principal, we give our highest praise
He has done his best to see us through
Our banner of gratitude to him we raise,
We'll remember him with reverence whatever we do.

So in this year of '58
Another ship sails out to sea,
Another crew can hardly wait
To come to grips with destiny.

Sail on oh ship of '58
New realms and paths of glory seek
Stand fast! fight hard! sail free! sail straight!
Venture far and anchor deep.

LANCASTER, Texas, Jan. 23.—This old Dallas County town, a arsenal for the Confederacy in th 1860's, is gunning anew for nev residents with scenic buildin sites and a push-button water sys tem as the chief lures.

In announcing completion o Lancaster's new all-automati water system and a 650-gallon-a minute Trinity sand water well the town's third, Mayor Bill Hold er said:

"Lancaster's population now i estimated at 5,000 and with ou new all-automatic water systen and new water storage we're pre pared to care for another 5,00 residents."

He said the water system pro gram is part of a $425,000 town wide program to expand wate and sewer facilities.

"The Lancaster area, with its trees and shrubbery, always has offered the choicest home sites," boasted Holder. "Now we have our utilities in shape to care for the newcomers."

The mayor said Gus Wright has completed 25 acres of new homes on Dallas Avenue and has 50 more acres to develop there.

The Ray Austin Company, Hold er said, has opened a 40-lot sub division on East Pleasant Run Road.

Biggest home building project scheduled, however, is the devel opment of 300 scenic wooded homesites on the Post Enter prises' farm at Lancaster's south western corner.

This is the tract owned by Troy Post of Dallas and Virgil H. Post, Lancaster banker.

The Post Brothers team cur rently is clearing a 2-block site for a Minyard's Super Market. It is south of the town square and adjacent to the Posts' First Na tional Bank.

"Building in Lancaster is mov ing at a good, steady rate and we're picking up 15 to 25 new families every month," Mayor Holder said. "The good thing about our growth is that we're
